DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-14 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1 line 3, the term "soft polymer" is deemed a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "soft" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. The same issue applies to claims 4, 8, and 11.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sandor et al. (5,554,432). Sandor discloses a method of manufacturing lenticular sheets having desired optical characteristics requiring the engraving of a master relief pattern comprising molding and embossment (col.3 lines 11-22) in which a platen press can be used to stamp or emboss an engraved relief pattern into a thermoset material (col.3 lines 29-40). The temperature of the thermoset material is raised to soften the material (lines 30-32). However, the reference fails to teach filling particles in a pattern.

It is noted that the reference clearly teaches of using a master relief pattern as noted above. One skilled in the art knows that utilizing the process of filling particles to obtain that pattern, it would obtain better control of the pattern but would be a more cost-inefficient process. Hence, it would have been obvious to fill particles in a pattern with the expectation of obtaining better control of the pattern because of the reasons indicated above.

The limitations of claims 2-14 have been addressed above.

Jacobson et al. (6,517,995), Jang et al. (6,656,790), and Mau et al. (6,866,801) have been cited as relevant art.
